Composition

At its first meeting following the Annual General Meeting, the Board of Directors elects at least three of its members to the People and Sustainability Committee and appoints one of them as Chairperson of the Committee. The term of the members will be one year, and the term will end upon the conclusion of the Annual General Meeting that follows the members' election.

Meetings and reporting

The People and Sustainability Committee meets at least four times per year. The Committee is convened by the Chairperson. A Committee meeting shall constitute a quorum when the Chairperson and at least one member are present. The secretary of the Committee meeting will be the Group chief human resources and communications officer. In addition, the Group's CEO participates in the committee's meeting and the chief sustainability and sourcing officer to the extent that matters related to sustainability are discussed. The Committee may, at its discretion, invite representatives of HR administration and senior management to attend its meetings as experts. The Committee may call upon outside experts if necessary.

The People and Sustainability Committee draws up a schedule of meetings for each year, including the main items to be discussed.

Minutes of the meetings of the People and Sustainability Committee will be drawn up and signed electronically by the Chairperson and the members of the Committee. The minutes of the Committee meetings are distributed to all members of the Board. Additionally, the Committee's Chairperson will report separately to the Board concerning the key matters discussed by the Committee.

The People and Sustainability Committee evaluates its own activities annually as part of the Board of Directors' self-assessment. The People and Sustainability Committee reviews and approves its charter annually.
